

MIDIS

Midwest Defense Innovation Summit

WHAT

The Midwest Defense Innovation Summit is a premier event organized by the Applied Research Institute to showcase the defense innovation ecosystem in the Midwest. This event will be held at the Indiana Convention Center in downtown Indianapolis on October 16-17, 2024 and aims to bring together key stakeholders, policymakers, industry leaders, and regional partners to hear the latest innovations and foster opportunities to collaborate.

WHO

This year's event features several keynote speakers and panel discussion sessions. Day one will focus primarily on science and technology policy efforts. Day two will highlight innovation and strategy efforts with speakers leading in this area.

WHY

- Stay Ahead of the Curve: Learn about the latest trends and developments in defense technology and policy.
- Collaborate and Innovate: Create meaningful connections with peers and potential partners in the field.
- Shape the Future: Contribute to important conversations that will influence the future landscape of defense and security.
